

Private health insurance audits

an online training module for alternative therapy providers

Private health insurance is confusing.

We know that as a healthcare provider, you simply want your patients to be able to claim benefits for your services, but the thought of a private health insurance audit is daunting.

Our course, Private health insurance audits will take the fear out of being audited.

Online and in your own time, you will learn about:

- the two types of private health insurance audits you might be subject to and why
- what the audit process involves, and
- the possible outcomes of an audit.

Most importantly, you will learn the practices you can put in place to ensure you comply with private health insurance regulations.

This course will leave you confident, compliant, and free to focus on what you do best - help your patients feel better.
